

Connecticut China Connection

Building Bridges for a Future of Peace

www.ConnecticutChinaConnection.org

Join Teachers James Crawford and Rick Wood
As They Travel to Schools in China
Building Global Communication Bridges Among Students

Their adventure blog includes written journals,

audio podcasts,
video podcasts,
photographs,
and more...

Mr. Crawford and Mr. Wood, teachers at Beecher Road School in Woodbridge, Connecticut, have begun documenting their discoveries about China and their preparations for the trip in April. During the travel and time spent at two schools in Shandong Province in China, they will send back observations and exciting accounts of their adventures. They are writing specifically for elementary and middle school students and will include answers to questions submitted by students.

"We love to learn and we hope to share that with your students."

James Crawford is CECA Award winner with Nancy White for their Digital Storytelling Project. Rick Wood is known for his role in organizing the annual CECA Conference.

Join Mr. Crawford and Mr. Wood now at www.ConnecticutChinaConnection.org